

Support with making decisions about next steps

Researching post-16 pathways with your child

1. Conversations with careers advisors, teachers, or other school staff

2. Conversations with parents / carers

There are a lot of sources of information for your child to look through, but we have noted the most common below so that you can encourage your child's research of options.

3. Conversations with friends

4. Conversations with older siblings or friends who have already left school

5. Conversations with professionals in the career sector you want to work in

6. Information provided by your school

7. Information provided by local colleges, sixth forms, or employers

8. Independent research using Unifrog

9. Independent research using other trustworthy websites

10. Independent research using social media or blogs