

Performance evaluation

Today I worked on my keyboard performance with my partner Eddie. We worked well together for most of the lesson although we did get a little distracted at times. I played the right hand of the keyboard part up to bar 7 but I found the second half really hard as there is a big jump between A and F.

When I work on this next time I need to make sure I practice this bit, rather than just going over the things I can already do!

I also need to work on just using my right hand for the melody line so when I have made enough progress I can try playing an accompaniment with my left hand.
